Understanding why we quit is the crucial first step to overcoming the habit. Often, quitting stems from fear – fear of failure, fear of judgment, fear of the unknown. Other triggers include:

Perfectionism: The pursuit of unattainable perfection can lead to discouragement and ultimately, quitting.

Lack of self-belief: Doubt in one's abilities can paralyze progress and create a self-fulfilling prophecy of failure.

Unrealistic expectations: Setting goals that are too ambitious or unrealistic can lead to frustration and a sense of overwhelm.

Lack of support: A lack of encouragement and understanding from others can make the journey feel isolating and daunting.

Burnout: Overworking and neglecting self-care can lead to exhaustion and a diminished capacity to persevere.
