The war against the Titans left an indelible mark on the world. Paradis Island, once a symbol of isolated defiance, now bears the scars of brutal conflict. This chapter delves into the physical destruction – the ravaged landscapes, the shattered cities – but more importantly, focuses on the psychological trauma experienced by the survivors. Soldiers grapple with PTSD, civilians struggle with the loss of loved ones and homes, and the entire world grapples with the immense loss of life. The collective trauma shapes societal structures and influences the decisions made by both leaders and citizens. We see the impact on relationships, the rise of social unrest, and the challenges of rebuilding a society shattered by war.

The chapter explores the different approaches taken by various factions and the resulting conflicts and compromises.

Chapter 2: A Fragile Peace – Navigating a Complex Political Landscape

(H2) The New World Order – Shifting Alliances and Power Dynamics

The defeat of Eren Yeager and the destruction of the Titans did not result in immediate global unity. Instead, a fragile peace emerged, built on uneasy alliances and shifting power dynamics. This chapter explores the political landscape, focusing on the relationships between Paradis Island and the rest of the world. The lingering mistrust, the potential for future conflicts, and the struggle for global dominance are central themes. We explore the challenges of establishing international law and order in a world still grappling with the legacy of the Titan war.

Chapter 4: New Horizons, Old Enemies – Emerging Threats and Antagonists

(H2) The Rise of New Antagonists – Internal and External Conflicts

The absence of the Titans does not equate to the absence of conflict. This chapter introduces new antagonists, both internal and external. These could include rival nations seeking to exploit the weakened state of the world, or internal factions vying for power on Paradis Island. The chapter introduces these new threats and their motivations, setting the stage for future conflicts.

(H2) Navigating Uncharted Territories – Adapting to a Changing World
